WITHOUT PREJUDICE

Dear Sirs,

Re: Steven and Liana Kerzner harassment

I am counsel to Steven and Liana Kerzner on this matter.

You formerly had a business relationship with Liana Kerzner. Through a Kickstarter campaign, Liana and Mr. Romero financed the initial development of a video game that Mr. Romero was to provide services for. Due to Mr. Romero's constant missing of deadlines and work not delivered according to direction, as well as other interpersonal matters between her, Mr. Romero and Mr. Holly, Mrs Kerzner concluded the project would not be completed.

Liana provided an explanation to investors for the game's cancellation which did not name nor identify directly or by inference Mr. Romero or Mr. Holly. You both then identified yourselves online and began posting defamatory statements about Liana on your various social media accounts.

You have accused my client of unprofessional and unethical conduct in her peer counselling business. This has harmed her business, leaving you open to both specific and general damages.

Further, you have directly contacted at least one consumer of Liana's online content with libelous false accusations.

Your actions, which are not limited to those mentioned above, have caused trauma and distress to Mrs. Kerzner.

Specifically, we demand that all your defamation of Liana Kerzner stop immediately. This includes spoken defamation as well as all online defamation, whether posted in your name or under pseudonyms. You must also remove all defamatory information that you have posted online, whether Liana is specifically named or is identifiable through details you have posted.

By 'defamatory' we mean any and all accusations concerning Mrs Kerzner that have not been proven in a court of law.

There is a lot of mythology about the anonymity of the Internet. It is, in fact, possible to find the authors of Internet posts and to enforce my clients' legal rights, and we are prepared to do so.

Please address any correspondence on this issue to me. Do not contact my clients for any reason whatsoever. If you do retain counsel, please have them contact me.

Yours truly,
